

IMPERIAL EUROPE TOUR

14 days / 13 nights

Throughout history, much of the world has been ruled by empires. For it to be considered an empire it must be a large expanse of the political terrain led by a monarch, an emperor or an oligarchy. Many monarchies continue to play an important role in history. In Europe, the British crown is the best known, but in the past France, Austria and Germany played an important social, political and economic role.

We will show you part of imperial Europe on this journey, starting in Vienna with deep traces of the Habsburg dynasty. The House of Habsburg (also called the House of Austria) was one of the most influential and powerful royal houses in Europe. The Habsburgs occupied the throne of the Holy Roman Empire continuously between 1438 and 1740. They also occupied at various times the thrones of the kingdoms of Spain, Portugal, Bohemia, England, Hungary and Croatia, and the Second Mexican Empire. A secondary branch of the Habsburg Empire was the Spanish empire that dominated South America and became extinct in 1700 with the death of Charles II. Vienna was the dynastic capital, except from 1583 to 1611 when it moved to Prague. In Vienna, Budapest and Prague we will follow in the footsteps of the Habsburgs and learn how the longest dynasty in European history lived. Then we will continue to Germany to learn about the Empire that was strengthened by the demise of the House of Habsburg. It was dominated by the largest and most powerful state, Prussia and ruled by Bismarck. Under the leadership of Prussia and Bismarck, Germany had become a nation and a world power.

*We will continue to visit our IMPERIAL EUROPE with the Netherlands and Belgium, which formed the Dutch Empire between the 17th and 20th centuries, being the third European country to establish a global colonial empire outside continental Europe. Finally, we will visit Imperial France, commonly known as Napoleonic France, which was a sovereign state that included in its territory a large part of Western and central Europe. With Paris and Versailles at the helm, we will follow in the footsteps left by Napoleon and Louis XV in this short but tumultuous imperial period of France. Come with us and live your royal adventure!
