Bolivia is one of the most biodiversity-rich countries in the world. From mountains with eternal snows to deep Amazon rainforests, the traveler will find everything nature has to offer. This 16-day trip through Bolivia, EUROLATINO offers you to know this biodiversity fused with an exceptional cultural richness. We will spend the night in a hotel museum restored in a house of the seventeenth century. The next day we will continue to the pearl of the Andes, the city of Uyuni, gateway to the largest salt flat in the world, with more than 12,000 km². We will also see the Avaroa National Park with its colorful lagoons and the deserts of Dali and Siloli. Once in La Paz, the seat of government, we will discover Bolivia's largest tourist icon, Lake Titicaca and spend a day in the lush rainforest of Los Yungas. Due to the difficulty of driving and the risk involved in many fatal accidents, this path is known as the "death'road". Since the new road was built in the last decade, intrepid travelers began to ride this road with mountain bikes from 4800 m. above sea level to 1500 meters.
